Important from Washington-Trouble in the Camp. Our accounts from Washington are very interesting. Several of Mr. Polk's nominations have been already rejected by the Senate; showing, distinctly, that an opposition has been organized to the new administration in the democratic party, which has a majority in that chamber. This bodes difficulty and trouble to the new govern ment.

There is also a great struggle in Washington among the three newspapers there—the Glole, the Madisonian, and the Constitution, relative to the position of " organ." The best way for Mr. Polk to get rid of this difficulty, would be to reject the whole of these papers, and make the leading jour-nals of New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and Baltimore his organs. We, of the Herald, will promise to station an agent and correspondent permanently in Washington, to receive the authorized views of the President and his cabinet for publication, without asking any patronage, or any favor either from the departments or Congress. What say you to this plan, Mr. Polk ?

[Correspondence of the Herald.]
WASHINGTON, March 19, 1845.

Rejection of Two Nominations by the Senate-Confirmations - Collector at Providence - Rumored Removals in State and Treasury Departments-The Organ, which is it to be ?- Cherokee Deputation-Frauds-Senate and Senor Almonte's Letter-Major Morris.

The Senate has to-day rejected two of President Polk's nominations. These are those of J. H. Prentiss for United States Marshal of the Northern District of New York, and hold-over William Shaler for Consul to Hong Kong. The reasons on which these rejections have been based, have not as yet come to light, but will probably do so in a day or two. It is, however, not likely that it is from any other cause except for alleged incompetency or unfitness for the office, as it can hardly be supposed to be on any political ground that refrom any other cause except for alleged incompetency or unfitness for the office, as it can hardly be supposed to be on any political ground that rejections for two such comparatively unimportant offices should have been made. [Cliqueism is the reason why.—Ed. Herald]

A number of nominations for unimportant offices were confirmed during to-day's sitting, among them being that of Mr. Carpenter for Collector at that "highly respectable" city of Providence, the President having been induced by the representations which were made to him by the indignant Rhode Islanders to withdraw the nomination of Mr. Harris which was so highly offensive to them, and to substitute Mr. Carpenter's. There was also a Mr. Seaman nominated and confirmed as Surveyor of the Port of Providence. The Senate was expected to adjourn sine die to-day, and would doubtless have done so, had it not been for the above rejections. They will almost certainly bring their sittings to a close to-morrow.

There have been a great many reports about respecting removals, which were said to have taken place in the various departments, and others which were to be made. They are, however, all premature. One report was made very confidently, that a certain number of removals had taken place in the State Department, but it was entirely unfounded. Another one, which is floating about, is that Mr. Walker, Secretary of the Treasury, has determined opon very extensive removals among the clerks in that department. I am, however, pretty confident that no removals of any consequence will be made at present, and the office, to which number the Secretary of the Treasury is required to reduce the present establishment. Now as the number at present employed is 75, here are 15 clerks to be removed whose places cannot be supplied again, and Mr. Walker will get all the odium of removal without the imagined advantage of being able to appoint others in their place. I learn also that it is more than probable that no removals will be made among the clerks except for cause, the o starting point for them to commence with. These things will, however, soon begin to develope them-selves, and the people will see a little more clearly things will, however, soon begin to develope themselves, and the people will see a little more clearly than they do now.

There has arrived here a large deputation of Cherokee Indians, of the old settler and anti-Ross party, as it is called. They are some remarkably fine tooking men among them. They complain of great frauds and peculations having been practised upon them, and have secured the aid of able and talented attorneys to turther their demands for justice. If Governor Marcy does his duty, there will be some startling developments at the War Department, and considerable of a rumpus created. T. Hartley Crawford looks very grave.

4 I have ascertained that the Secate, some days ago, adspted a resolution calling upon the President for a copy of Senor Almonte's letter, which was sent to them. I have not learned whether they took any action upon this blustering braggadoria document, which I believe promises the United States that in about a month the valorous Mexicans will march up to this city and annihilate old Uncle Sam and all his brood. Nous verrons, as old Ritchie of the Richmond Enquirer says.

Your correspondent "Relay" was in error in saying that ex Mayor Morris had eft this city. He is still here, as innoy as ever, with that funny look in his eye, and accosting every body with a snatch of a ballad.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, March 19, 1845. Captain Polk and Texas - A Messenger Despatched -Prospect of an Extra Session-R. M. Whitney -C. J. M Nulty-Colonel Benton and Frank Thomas-Col. Skinner and Col. Medary-Miss Clarendon, &c. We have, from a reliable source, learned to-day that the President yesterday despatched a message extraordinary to Texas, in relation to its admission into the Union. But whether the message coincides with that sent by John Tyler, to wit: that he as President of the United States had accepted the first alternative of the Texas resolutions, known as Milton Brown's proposition; or whether it annuls that alternative of John Tyler, by a preference of Mr. Walker's amendment, we cannot determine. It is supposed, however, that Captain Polk endorses the alternative of John Tyler; and, if such be the case, it is the opinion of the Cabinet, as we are further informed, that an extra session may be necessary, and will most likely be convened to ratify the act of annexation, after the acceptance by Texas of the terms submitted as embodied in Brown's resolutions. The authority from which this information is derived, makes it of more importance than most of the speculations of the day. Reuben M. Whitney, we are apprised, lies dangerously sick of a cancerous affection. It is said, too, that when he learned; that he was superseded in his petty office, his energies were prostrated at once, and that the fear is he may never rise again. Mr. Shaler, you will discover, is a defunct office-seeker—laid on the shelf to dry. Others are destined to a similar fate.

An indictment has been found against McNulty, but his trial for embezzlement will not be had, most probably, before the next sitting of our Criminal Court.

A strange and exciting rumor prevails in town this evening, namely, that Col. Benton has indict. Milton Brewn's proposition; or whether it annuls probably, before the next sitting of our Criminal Court.

A strange and exciting rumor prevails in town this evening, namely, that Col. Benton has indicted, in this district, Ex-Governor Thomas, of Maryland, for slander and defamation. In the statement of Francis Thomas there is certainly apparent strong ground for such a presentation. That this unpleasant family matter is to end with the pamphlet of the Ex-Governor, we cannot believe. There is too much method in the madness of Thomas to suffer it to pass off unrefuted and unpunished. We shall have trouble among the good folks we are afraid, and a regular setting down, before the litigation is settled.

In the place of Skinner, as assistant Post-master General, Col. Samuel Medary, Editor of the "Ohio Statesman," who was presented to Capt. Polk shortly after his inauguration, by the Ohio delegation of forty of fifty men of high standing, as a suitable personage for Post-master General. This same indomitable Col. Medary, will, if he chooses to accept, be installed in the place of Col. Skinner, we can spare the Colonel, he is so good a farmer in theory, that he will doubtless be glad of testing
